

Sense and Sensibility

by Jane Austen (1775-1817)

The story is about Elinor and Marianne Dashwood. They have a younger sister, Margaret, and an older half-brother named John. When their father dies, the family estate passes to John, and the Dashwood women are left in reduced circumstances. The novel follows the Dashwood sisters to their modest new home, where they experience both romance and heartbreak. The contrast between the sisters' characters is eventually resolved as they each find love and lasting happiness. (Wikipedia)
